WEBINAR SUMMARY

This webinar will provide an overview of Motivational Interviewing (MI), an empirically-supported, collaborative, and goal-oriented style of communication with particular attention to the language of change. Participants will learn the basic concepts of MI, salient techniques for primary care practice, and how MI can be used to address suicide prevention. Attendees will also receive resources on how they can seek additional MI training.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Jordan Braciszewski, PhD is a licensed clinical psychologist and Senior Scientist in the Center for Health Policy and Health Services Research at Henry Ford Health. His research generally focuses on innovative means of improving access to mental health and substance use services, often using technology-driven approaches. The majority of his interventions involve using Motivational Interviewing (MI). Dr. Braciszewski has provided MI coding services since 2008 and has been a member of the Motivational Interviewing Network of Trainers since 2009. His MI training groups include community mental health organizations, health care systems, and research studies addressing a variety of mental and physical health issues and populations across the lifespan. He received his Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Wayne State in 2010, completed his clinical internship at the John Dingell (Detroit) VA Medical Center, and conducted residency training at Brown University in addictions research.
